DATA PRIVACY POLICY (HAGER SMART HOME DEVICES)

DEFINITIONS:

The Smart Home Service, hereinafter also referred to as the service, is the server-based service to your Smart Home device.

The Smart Home device is the controller to be activated which performs the networking of the peripheral devices connected to it and which communicates with your mobile device.

The Smart Home system is the system composed of the Smart Home device, the peripheral devices connected to it and the App for the Smart Home device to manage and/or control building installations and/or not stationary products.

Hager is Hager Vertriebsgesellschaft mbH & Co. KG, Zum Gunterstal, 66440 Blieskastel.

Mobile device: Smartphone, PCs or PC tablets.

The Reference user is the member of the family responsible for the use of the Smart Home system and its services.

The terms and conditions of service are the terms and conditions of service specified in Sections A and B.

The software products are the computer programmes on which this service is based.

The system is the Smart Home system set up at the home of the reference user.

At Hager Vertriebsgesellschaft mbH & Co. KG, Zum Gunterstal, 66440 Blieskastel, we take the protection of your personal data seriously. We would like to explain to you below the nature, scope and purpose of the collection, processing and use of the data accumulated on the basis of your use of the Smart Home service.

General information on how data transmission functions in the Smart Home system:

If the peripheral devices connected to the Smart Home device communicates information to the Smart home device (temperature, blinds open/closed, someone is on the door, portraits, etc.), these information are stored in an encrypted form at your home in the Smart Home device. If you log into the system via the App for your Smart Home device inside or outside your home, the App creates a direct <https://secured> link to your device (bank level encryption: https. SSL 2048 bits).

Https (hypertext transfer protocol secure) is a hypertext transfer protocol. It is possible to make data inaudible and unreadable in the transfer process. This is achieved through encryption and authentication. Authentication serves to verify the identity of the connecting partner when establishing the communication.

This means that you alone see the information on your home. When logging in outside your home, the Hager server connects you with your Smart home device. Your Smart home device and your mobile device can communicate with each other and your Smart home device can receive commands. At no time will information on your home be collected by us or stored on the Hager server.

Controller:

The controller for the collection, processing and use of personal data within the meaning of the German federal data protection legislation is Hager Vertriebsgesellschaft mbH & Co. KG, Zum Gunterstal, 66440 Blieskastel.

In order to do this the installer creates an account for you in the Smart Home device so that you are identified first by the system as the authorized reference user. Subsequently, when we send you the corresponding message, you log into your personal account at hager.de/myHager by entering your password. Each time you log into your account, the system verifies the authorization to use it. If you lose your mobile device or if it has been otherwise misplaced, you can log into your account from anywhere, change your password and make access to your system by a third party impossible. If no setting up and/or configuration of your Smart Home device by an electrician is necessary (please consult the product information accompanying the device for details) and you register directly - registration requires you at the very least to give your email address and name (user identification) as well as an individual user password - this also serves to verify the authorization to use the system when you log in or ask for password change.

The personal data will be stored in the databases of our affiliates (§15 of the German Stock Corporation Act [AktG]) and in the databases of external providers of hosting services, with which an appropriate agreement has been concluded in accordance with the applicable data protection legislation. A list of these external providers is available on request. These databases are located in the territory of the European Union.

We would like to draw your attention to the fact that the personal data which you have provided may be passed on to the authorities, public bodies or consultants if and insofar such information should prove to be necessary to protect the legitimate interests of Hager, customers, employees or suppliers of Hager on fiscal or legal grounds. In the case specified in Section A. VI. of the terms and conditions of service, the new contracting partner is entitled to use the data for the purposes stipulated in this data privacy policy.

III. DEACTIVATING YOUR ACCOUNT

You can cancel your registration on hager.de/coviva at any time, in the process deactivating your account. Your account along with your personal data will be deleted. The service ceases.
